WMPG's 15th ANNUAL FAT TUESDAY CELEBRATION!

WHAT: 15th Annual WMPG Fat Tuesday Celebration & Cajun Cooking Challenge

WHEN: Tuesday, February 9, 2010, from 12pm-3pm (note: this is one week prior to the actual "Fat Tuesday" date due to the USM vacation schedule)

WHERE: Woodbury Campus Center, USM Portland Campus (Bedford Street)

WHY: WMPG has hosted this winter party since 1994 as a way to celebrate Mardi Gras with our volunteers and listeners. The emphasis is on food and music, not fund-raising. We exist thanks to the financial support we receive from listeners and the hard work of our volunteers. This is our way of thanking them. We will be broadcasting Mardi Gras and Carnival music (from all over the world) that day, from the site of the celebration, USM's Woodbury Campus Center. All of our listeners and supporters (including the USM student body) are invited to attend, sample area chefs' New Orleans style cooking, and vote for their favorite. Last year's party drew more than five hundred revelers.

HOW TO GET

INVOLVED: Any restaurant, individual, or organization is welcome to enter the New Orleans Cooking Challenge with a minimum donation of five gallons of Cajun food. However, those interested in winning the contest are advised to provide a minimum of ten gallons (to ensure availability for the duration of the judging period). There is no monetary fee to enter the Cajun Cooking Challenge. All entries must be pre-cooked and delivered by 11am. It is recommended that you staff the table from 11:00am-3pm. Entrants are welcome to bring banners and promotional materials (flyers, paper menus, etc.). Winners will be announced on-air at 3pm.

Registration closes Monday, February 8th. Contact Jim Rand at 780-4424 for questions or to register.
