Fall 2019

WMPG Community Radio is a listener-sponsored, free speech, non-commercial/educational broadcaster that is volunteer and student powered. Led by a professional staff of three managers, and operated by over 200 volunteers and students, WMPG is live on-air 24 hours per day, 7 days per week.

WMPG trains dozens of people each year to make radio, with the goal of preserving the public's access to the public airwaves. As WMPG strives to include the widely varied sounds, ideas, music, cultures, languages and discussions of the communities we serve, WMPG also gives a voice to the people in our surrounding communities.

Originally created by a USM student in 1975, WMPG's home is with the University of Southern Maine on 92 Bedford St in Portland.
